Problem 3: Invent a pair that needs exactly two instructions to match. Can you invent a pair that needs four?

Problem 5: Choose three instructions that make any two starts match. Could just two instructions always do it?